

ANETTE WIE / DESIGNPARKEN

Designparken is a Norwegian design company that makes eco conscious home goods. Designparken is established by me, Anette Wie. All products are designed by me, the fabrication is made locally in Europe with super environmentally friendly materials. My mission is to make everyday to a party. Serve freshly broued coffee on a trendy coaster, the cheese on a very stilish cutting board and the treat, the small cookies on the coolest and best looking tray. The sponge cloths are 100 % biodegradable still with a very high quality and a big favorit amongs many many customers. I wish to bring style into the kitchen in a playful and cool way.

This season is Designparken news inspired by Scandinavian nature and culture. The art deco period's strict design language is also a key element in the Designparken's collections.

I have been working as a designer for 25 years, the latest 5 year for my own company Designparken. I have showroom and office right outside Oslo, Norway.

You will find all my designs at www.designparken.com
