

Pikelus

The two designers and illustrators Camilla Rørvik and Maria Torset are the girls behind the norwegian based company Pikelus (Cooties).

When we finished our education we wanted to create designs that make people happy! So that's why we started our playful company Pikelus. To spread our unique design making your home a bit more fun and colorful.

We have provided illustrations for books and newspapers, designed product catalogs and created logos. But the big dream has always been to have our designs on quality products which people use and see everyday.

- We love to be able to unfold freely when we make patterns or illustrations for our dish cloths, tea towels, coasters, serving tray and so on, says Camilla.

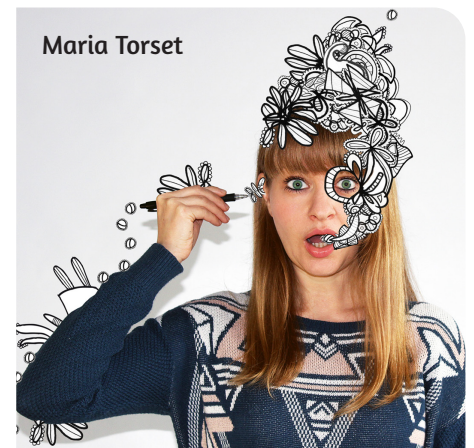

- Making things with bright colors that will make your day even better, says Maria. When people buy our products or leave nice comments about our designs, we are incredibly happy. What we want is to spread happy Pikelus to every home.

Now we have put together a collection consisting of serving trays, cutting boards, coasters, super cloths and tea towels to name a few. We are concerned about the environment therefore we only choose quality and eco-friendly products! Good for you and good for the environment!

We hope you love our design!

Lots of love from Pikelus

- Maria and Camilla -
